Rheumatism and Neuralgia

These twin diseases cause untold suffering. Doctors admit that they are difficult to cure. So do their patients. Paine's Celery Compound has permanently cured the worst cases of rheumatism and neuralgia—so say those who have used it.

—Having been troubled with rheumatism at the knee and foot for five years, I was almost unable to get around, and was very often confined to my bed for weeks at a time. I used only one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and was perfectly cured. I can now jump around and feel as lively as a boy. FRANK CARLOS, Elko, Nevada.

"Paine's Celery Compound has been a God send to me. For the past two years I have suffered with neuralgia of the heart, doctor after doctor failing to cure me. I have taken nearly four bottles of the Compound and am free from the complaint. I feel very grateful to you." CHAS. H. LEWIS, Central Village, Cal.

Paine's Celery Compound

"I have been greatly afflicted with acute rheumatism, and could find no relief until I used Paine's Celery Compound. After using six bottles of this medicine I am now cured of rheumatic troubles." SAMUEL HUTCHINSON, So. Cornish, N. H.

Effects Lasting Cures

Paine's Celery Compound has performed many other cures as marvelous as those of letters sent to any address. Please send to take, does not disturb, but aids digestion, and entirely restores a child can take. What's the use of suffering longer with rheumatism or neuralgia?

$1.00. Six for $5.00. Druggists.

DIAMOND JESUS Give Faith and Brighten

Happy and Healthy. It is Unusually What Scott's Emulsion Has Done

Over 25 Pounds Gain in 20 Weeks. Experience of a Prominent Citizen.

THE CALIFORNIA SOCIETY FOR THE SUPPRESSION OF VICE, SAN FRANCISCO, July 7th, 1888.

I took a severe cold upon my chest and lungs and did not give it proper attention; it developed into bronchitis, and in the fall of the same year I was threatened with consumption. Physicians prescribed various remedies, but I came to San Francisco. Soon after my arrival I commenced taking Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites regularly three times a day. In ten weeks my aching lungs went from 155 to 180 pounds and over; the cough meantime ceased.

GETTING THINGS MIXED.

The Lads' Blunder Made by a Well Known Illinois Judge.

"I saw Judge Moulton, of Shelbyville, up here the other day," said an Illinois politician who sat chatting with two or three friends in the rotunda of the Palmer House, within hearing of a Chicago Mail reporter. "It was the first time I'd seen him for a long time. I used to live down that way when he was on the Supreme bench and about the time he went to Congress, and knew him pretty well. At the same hotel table with him the summer his wife went to Europe. He's not much changed during the fifteen years; a little grayer, and perhaps slightly thinner, but pretty much the same judge that used to be the butt of all Bayless Hannah's and Judge Hens' and Pat Mitchell's and George R. Wendling's jokes. Wendling and Hens were inveterate wags and it was their chief delight to worry Judge Moulton. Perhaps you don't know that he's afflicted with myopia, but it's a fact that he couldn't tell a brick house from a hay-stack across the street, he's so frightfully near-sighted. Wendling used to say he sometimes made a mistake and kissed the hired girl on the stairs taking her for his wife. But that was probably one of George's lies.

Anyhow, the judge is powerfully near-sighted. For instance, one day he was going up to the court-house from the hotel when he met an amiable town cow on the crossing. The judge is a courteous gentleman, with old-school manners, and taking the cow for a lady, he lifted his hat gallantly. With a bow, a smile, and a pleasant "Good morning, madam," he stepped closer to the walk to allow the object of his deference to pass.

"Well, Hens saw it and told Mitchell, and when the judge got to the court-house the whole bar jumped on to him and gazed him unmercifully. They got him madder than a hornet, and after standing it about as long as he could without fighting, he gathered up his umbrella and hat and put out for the hotel. Just as he was in the middle of the same crossing he met a lady, but he wasn't to be fooled again by deceptive appearances, so, with a flourish of his umbrella, he shouted:

"Haw there, darn ye! Get off the walk!"

"Well, this capped the climax, and old Cap Ellington, who kept the hotel, and who saw the judge's queer break, just laid down on the front walk and howled. It took the judge ten minutes to find out what it was all about, but when he did realize his blunder he didn't wait for a dinner, nor for Hens and Mitchell and Wendling to have a chance at him, but just gathered up his bag of briefs and lit out on the noon train for Duquoin, or wherever it was his court sat, and he didn't come back again until his wife came home.

"But the story was not forgotten, and it used to be told on him when he was running for Congress, and it was even current at Washington, where it followed him. He always said it was a lie, but I guess it was straight."

THE HANDSOME MAN.

Mrs. Frank Leslie Gives Her Definition of Male Beauty.

To call a man charming in face, or lovely, or beautiful, or pretty, is to minimize—almost to insult him—writes Mrs. Frank Leslie. A man can only be called handsome, and very, very few men can be called that.

A handsome man must be mainly in figure, conveying the idea of strength and energy, under the most regular and powerful exterior. He must have the shapely hands, feet and ears that tell of good blood and cultivated progenitors; he must have his head well shaped, well set and well carried; he must have a deep, broad chest and a straight back, and long, shapely limbs; his features must be regular and powerful, and yet full of expression, and the kindly power that great sculptors try to give to Jupiter.

Coloring does not much matter, so that there be no red upon the cheeks, and not too much in the lips, and perhaps the mezzo tints lend themselves more satisfactorily to many beauty, but above all, the handsome man must never be stout. The heavy throat which overflows the shirt collar never carries with it an air of refinement, whatever it may do of strength. A blonde man runs the risk of weakness and insipidity, and a black haired man is handsome, even though he be a trifle melo-dramatic, but still golden-haired and black-haired men have been very attractive the world over.

Of course, below this grand climacteric in the thoroughly handsome man there are ranks after ranks of good-looking, attractive, pleasant-faced men—some upon whom one loves to look and find sweet content in contemplating faces and forms far from faultless, and yet, quite satisfactory. And here we come upon one of the most strange and almost cruel conditions of our being. A man may or may not be handsome, he may or may not have any physical attractiveness whatever, but nobody likes him the less for the deficiency, he never finds it a barrier in his career, a source of failure in his life; women love him and men admire him just as readily as if he is handsome; in fact, the woman or woman who love him set him down as handsome in serene defiance of the rules of beauty or the opinion of the world.

A WOMAN INVENTOR.

How she Made a Large Fortune on a Clever Device.

The story of one Portland girl deserves to be recounted, says the Boston Globe. This is Miss Helen Blanchard, now a resident of Philadelphia, who was specially gifted, and who succeeded in a field commonly supposed to be open only to the masculine intellect. She is of an inventive mind, and with a passion for mechanical contrivance from her childhood. Naturally, she was foreordained to invent something, and she did it. The something, or rather the first thing she invented was an attachment for sewing machines to sew "over-and-over" stitches. The story that was told of her runs to the effect that one day, while at work at a sewing-machine she got out of patience with the way it worked, and in a passion kicked it over, with the result that she could make a better machine than that herself. Straightway, she continued the vibrations of her mind, she proceeded to invent the "over-and-over" attachment.

In point of fact, the account thus given is largely a myth. Miss Blanchard did not, and does not kick sewing machines, but she did very deservingly and properly, after long and careful study, invent the "over-and-over" attachment, and obtained a patent on it. This laid the foundation for a large fortune, which it is pleasant to be able to say she now enjoys. She owns large estates, a manufacturing and many patent rights. Her fortune, royalties and income, without venturing statements accurate enough to be impertinent, may be described in the fluent language of the dime novelist as the richest of avarice. She earned it all herself. She had no assistance from anyone, and hired money at twenty-five per cent. to pay her first Patent Office fees.

"LUCKY BILL."

An Inyo "Index" Reporter Interviews Rough Elliott. An Inyo (Cal.) Index reporter has interviewed Rough Elliott, who is now in jail in that county under sentence of death, relative to the disposition of "Lucky Bill's" body after the hanging in 1858. The interview was prompted by an article which appeared in the GAZETTE a few days ago. The Index says: The connection of Mr. Elliott with the punishment of "Lucky Bill" and others is well known, and he is only averse to entering upon the subject for publication because of his own unfortunate situation, and for the reason that other persons connected with the affair might suffer more or less from undesirable newspaper notoriety. Mr. Elliott said "Lucky Bill" and nine others were arrested in Genoa and taken to the Abernathy or Clear Creek ranch and tried together. A Court was organized with three Judges—John H. Neil of Honey Lake Valley, John Caray of Carson Valley, and Dr. King of Eagle Valley. Channery Notewares was Clerk, and Theo Winters and W. T. G. Elliott were Sheriffs. All were chosen by the assembled people, and the Court duly organized. It was agreed that the prisoners should be tried by a jury of eighteen; that it should require a unanimous verdict to inflict the death penalty, and that twelve should be necessary for banishment. Eighteen men were called, and upon "Lucky Bill's" own suggestion, before these first eighteen the trial was held. "Lucky Bill" is alive all the same, and is now located in Colorado, and it is improbable that he will blow in in the near future and demand satisfaction. It is barely possible that he may get here in time to see Elliott dangle from the end of a rope, and take as much satisfaction in it as Elliott did in his case.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. J. M. Fulton returned from Long Valley last night. Assessor J. D. Kersey came down from Carson's last evening. M. E. Ward returned this morning from a trip to Yuba county, Cal. Edwin Fowler, Wells-Fargo's agent at Wadsworth, came up from the east end last evening.

RAILROAD SPECULATION.

The Susanville Advocate is informed that the rails of the N. C. & O. on the east side of the lake will be torn up and the road constructed to Millford, thence to Belfast and through Susanville, up the Pinto Canyon to Mountain Meadows. The N. C. & O. has ascertained that there will be no opposition as to right of way by the farmers of this valley. An inquiry at the office here failed to substantiate the Advocate's prediction. The GAZETTE guesses that they will go right on through the way they have started.

Thursday Night's Entertainment.

The Boston Journal of Music says of the Heine company: * * * Joseph Heine indeed shows a remarkable mastery of his instrument, and is perfectly at home in all the virtuosos airs. His tone is fine, his cantabile full of feeling and of breadth, and there is real nerve and vigor in his bravura. They appear here next Thursday night, and Joseph Heine is said to be a perfect wonder with the violin, far exceeding Madame Ussio, in his difficult performances. The box-sheet is now open and you will do well to secure your seats early.

Not in Favor of Commutation.

The Elko Independent says: Some persons, we learn, favor a commutation of the sentence of Mrs. Potts because she is a woman. We are not in favor of drawing the line, under the circumstances. We are in favor of commutation of the sentence of both or neither. From what we know of the case we see no good reason why the man should hang and the woman escape. From the reading of the testimony in the case the GAZETTE considers the Potts woman the more guilty of the two.

Justice's Court.

Old "Rattling Bill" Reynolds from Machias, Maine, and three other drunks were held for an interview this morning. John Singleton, convicted of keeping a disorderly house, was yesterday fined $50 by Justice Young. In addition to the above undesirable citizens, there are several professional vags in the county jail.

The University Contract.

The University building contract is to be let Monday. Five days seems a pretty short time for builders to examine the plans, get estimates on lumber and brick and to make their calculations. It gives the man who handled the plans and specifications much the best of it, and gives rise to a suspicion that should not exist.

Found the Body.

Just as we go to press, says the Elko Independent, word comes in that Oliver Riffe has found the body of his lost child about three miles from home, where Mr. Riffe sometimes went for wood and allowed his children to go with him. The body was found by Indians.

"Two Hearts With But," Etc.

Rumors of an intended marriage have been circulated. Who can they be?—Central Nevada, March 29th. Rumors of an intended marriage have been circulated. Who can they be?—Journalist, March 30th. What a singular coincidence.

Brought to Town.

The horses owned by the N. C. & O. Railroad Company have been brought in town to be fed, the hay giving out in Honey Lake. It is likely to be some time before the company will need them for work on their extension.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

Another bright day. Another big train passed west last night. Beckwith Pass is 5,192 feet above the sea-level. J. W. Killen advertises for a girl to do dining-room work. The Advocate says gardening has commenced in Susanville. Carson is cleaning up Capital square—a much needed improvement. Read Mrs. Beaglehole's 50-cent ad. of Spring and Summer hats and bonnets. The Ormsby House quarantine at Carson will be raised on Monday and the house reopened. The Journal is to be congratulated on having completed its thirtieth volume and fifteenth year. The town is full of people from the surrounding country this afternoon making their week's purchases. Ten cars of beef cattle shipped at Lovelock to E. & H. Moffatt, San Francisco, passed here this morning. J. W. Killen is talking of adding a third story to the Pollard House this Spring to make room for his growing business. The "Meg Merrilies" Company went west last night. They played to light business at Carson and on the Comstock. Yates, the American Building and Loan Association man, is in Carson trying to get subscribers for his company's stock. Governor Stevenson yesterday appointed George Young as a Notary Public, to reside at Rye Patch, Humboldt county. The Nevada & California Railroad Company have sold their lumber to the Reno Lumber Company and propose to go out of the business. Some of the most prominent merchants in Reno either use a rubber stamp, and a poor one at that, or send below for their letter and bill heads, but they kick and growl more than anybody if some one else happens to send below for anything in their line. As Governor A. once said, "Oh! consistency, where is your jewelry!"

THE ECLIPSE.

What General Irish's Party Accomplished. General Irish received yesterday the following card about his observation of the eclipse: AMHERST COLLEGE OBSERVATORY, AMHERST, MASS., March 29, 1889. DEAR SIR: I have much pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of your communication of March 15th, including three photographic plates. The results will be duly embodied in the final report of the eclipse, which will take some months to prepare and publish. Thanking you for your co-operation, I remain yours truly, DAVID P. TODD, Director.

Your photographs are the best taken with ordinary cameras thus far yet reached us. When my report is published I will endeavor to send you the number of copies you desire. D. P. T. Professor E. S. Holden, Director of the Lick Observatory, writes General Irish that his observation (if the sun eclipse on January 1, 1889, are highly interesting and of great importance to science. Professor Holden, in remarking upon the success of General Irish's party, says: "Your observations, I believe, are entirely unique, and it is highly desirable to have all the descriptions of them which can be given," and requests further description and sketches of the appearance of the sun.

Spring Stock.

S. Jacobs, the merchant tailor, left last evening for San Francisco to purchase a full stock of Spring and Summer goods, and also to secure the services of a first-class cutter. He will also purchase a large stock of mens and boys furnishing goods, hats and caps.

A Happy Woman.

"The happiest women like the happiest nations have no history," says the wonderful writer, George Eliot. But no woman can be happy who is suffering from the irregularities and "weaknesses" so common to the sex. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will soothe nervous troubles and restore health and vigor. These women will bloom again on those faded cheeks. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of prostration, weak back, "female weakness," auto-erectio, retroversion, "bearing down" sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration, inflammation, pain and tenderness, and kindred ailments.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklin's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merit. E. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

When a person tells you they never had such a cold in their life take their word for it and advise them to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and cure it. For coughs, colds and hoarseness it has no equal. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker.

A Cough, Cold, or Sore Throat should not be neglected. Dr. King's Great Peppermint Cure is a simple remedy, and gives prompt relief. 25 cents a box.

KILBOURN—Is the best remedy for all kinds of skin diseases. It is the only one that cures. 25 cents a box.

COLLINS—Is the best remedy for all kinds of skin diseases. It is the only one that cures. 25 cents a box.
